誤	 The diagram shows the same road intersection as above. A circle is drawn around a specific area on the horizontal road, labeled with the number '128' and the parcel number '15-222'. A double-headed arrow indicates the width of this area. The road number '187' and the number '19' are also visible.
